How still the night! Such si-lent could be felt 8

Were it not bro-ken now and then by some Scared sheep, whose rest-less-ness doth night. A-cross the plain I can just see the forms of my com-pan-ions So still that they might al-most be a-sleep. Ha! the light has near-ly blind-ed me. What is it? Look yon-der!

8

27

'Tis some bright And Ra-diant be-ing clad in white.
